Fogler Quits and Iver Lawson Is Forced Out for Want of Partner.

(Special to The Herald.)

New York, Dec. 9.—Francois Faber, the French rider in the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square garden, proved himself a veritable speed demon this afternoon when, in a remarkable spurt, he gained four miles on his competitors. No similar spurt has ever been witnessed at the garden. Round and round the course Faber raced and before he finished his dash he had gained forty laps over his comhe had gained forty laps over his competitors. Faber's wonderful work had the crowd, which was the higgest of the meeting, constantly on its feet roaring encouragement to him So swift a pacedid he set that the others were unable to get near him. The Frenchman was interfered with during his spurt by Devonovitch, the Russian rider, who tried to cut him off while he was racing to catch up with those in the lead. Troucatch up with those in the lead. Trouble was imminent, when Lafourcade, Faber's team mate, swung on to his wheel and motioned his partner to leave the track. Lafourcade took up the pace and gained another lap in a sharp sprint. A him burst of speed during the day was big burst of speed during the day was made by Walthour and his partner. Ed-die Root. Root's burst of speed was one of the most wonderful exhibitions of hucontest in the garden. Although he had been riding at top speed for more than twenty-four hours at intermittent stages of the race, he put up a clip that has selden been riding as contest in the garden.
